WANT TO "GET ACQUAINTED"

Special Train Coming from Madisonville.

"LET'S GET ACQUAINTED" TRIP

Of Business Men to Our City, Stopping at All Points Along the Line.

Madisonville wants to get acquainted with Hartford and also the other towns along the line of the new M. H. & E. railroad, and for this purpose a crowd of the business and professional men of that town will run a special train to Hartford on Thursday, May 26. Stops will be made at all of the stations along the new road as far as Hartford, arriving here for dinner. They say they are not coming to boost Madisonville over Hartford, nor in any spirit of rivalry for trade, but just to know Hartford and enlist with the people of our little city in building up the country here and about us.

The special will be known as a "Get Acquainted Trip," and the slogan will be "Let's Get Acquainted." They will have with them a band, plenty of souvenirs and a big wad of good cheer. They are coming for pleasure and to give people pleasure with whom they meet. They want to get acquainted with their neighbors, with whom they have had no direct access until the recent establishment of the new road.

The M. H. & E. has opened up a fine avenue of business in this section of the State which offers a good chance for the development of the country and various enterprises. We need this business and it needs us to show it to the world. There are few better sections of Kentucky than old Hartford, its surroundings, and the country between here and Madisonville. The latter city is fast growing into a metropolis, and it deserves it. It is a thriving place full of high-class, hustling citizens. They will be good neighbors and we will be good neighbors to them, each and all striving for mutual benefit. We need each other in the world's progress as it affects our interests. We will be "de-lighted" to meet them and we hope the pleasure will not all be ours, but mutual.

We bespeak for the "Let's Get Acquainted" crowd a cordial welcome and we hope the citizens here and all along the line will join in giving them the right hand of fellowship which goes so far towards cementing the ties of friendship and business interests.

Baptist Church.

The pastor left Monday night for his trip to the Southern Baptist Convention which meets in Baltimore, Md., May 11-18. He will also attend the World's Sunday School Convention which meets in Washington, May 19-26, and may go from there to New York.

The prayer meeting Wednesday night will be conducted by E. E. Rhoads.

Teachers' meeting will be held at the church, Thursday night, conducted by Dr. E. W. Ford.

There will be preaching next Sunday morning and night by Rev. T. E. Richey, of Princeton, Ky. Rev. Richey once lived in Hartford and is very anxious to meet all his old friends at the church next Sunday.

A Living Skeleton

Is the final condition of any child that has worms—if it lives. Think of having something in your stomach that eats all you take as nourishment. Nine tenths of the babies have worms; maybe yours has. Be certain that it has not by giving it White's Cream Vermifuge—it expels all worms and is a tonic for the baby. Price 25 cents. Sold by Hartford Drug Co., Incorporated.

Old Land Mark Passing.

Another old land mark in Hartford is passing. Workmen began last week tearing down the old Masonic building on Union street which has stood for more than half a century and in which much history for Hartford and surrounding country has been written. Besides being the hall of the Masonic and other lodges for years, until recently, it was for many years the school house for the town. Here Professor Mason Hedrick, father of Professor W. R. Hedrick, of the present Hartford College faculty, taught school more than fifty years ago, and here also Professors Hayward and McIntyre, besides many others, taught the young and rising generations of the long ago. Of late years the old building has been out of repair and was finally abandoned about two years ago for the new hall on Main street over Carson & Company's store, as a lodge hall. The lot is owned by C. M. Barnett and a residence building will take the place of the old hall in the near future.

Two Ohio County Cases Affirmed.

The Court of Appeals affirmed Judge Birkhead's decisions in two important cases last week.

The case of the Williams Coal Co. vs. James Cooper, was the largest verdict ever given for personal injuries by an Ohio county jury, and will amount, with interest, penalty and costs, to more than eleven thousand dollars.

Young Cooper was fearfully mangled by falling slate at Williams Mines in September, 1908, and his judgment against the coal company, which the Court of Appeals decides it must pay, grew out of his injuries. Messrs. M. L. Heavrin, Ben D. Ringo and Ernest Woodward represented Mr. Cooper, while Messrs. Glenn & Simmerman, of this city, and Sweeney & Ellis, of Owensboro, represented the defendant coal company.

The case of the M. H. & E. R. R. Co. vs. W. H. Renfrow, also decided last week, involved the right of the railroad company to obstruct the overflow waters from Rough river by its track and embankment. A jury in Judge Birkhead's Court gave the plaintiff Renfrow $500 as damages and the Court upholds that judgment.

Several similar cases are pending in court here now.

Messrs. Glenn & Simmerman represented the Railroad Company and Messrs. Heavrin & Woodward represented the plaintiff Renfrow.

Rev. M. E. Dodd Stricken in Pulpit.

Paducah, Ky., May 8.—While preaching this morning the Rev. M. E. Dodd, pastor of the First Baptist church, was stricken with appendicitis, and is in a serious condition. This afternoon he was operated on, but the outcome is uncertain.

The Rev. Mr. Dodd formerly was located at Mayfield. Since locating here he has been very active against vice. Only recently he was knocked down on the street by Charles E. Graham, a prominent tobaccoist, for an alleged insult he offered the latter's wife. He is one of the brightest divines in West Kentucky.

Biliousness and Constipation.

For years I was troubled with biliousness and constipation, which made life miserable for me. My appetite failed me. I lost my usual force and vitality. Pepsin preparations and cathartics only made matters worse. I do not know where I should have been to-day had I not tried Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. The tablets relieve the ill feeling at once, strengthen the digestive functions, purify the stomach, liver and blood, helping the system to do its work naturally.—Mrs. Rosa Potts, Birmingham, Ala. These tablets are for sale by all dealers.

Mayor Edward H. Crump was one of the first violators of the new anti-spitting ordinance in Memphis, which he ordered the police to rigidly enforce. He was fined for spitting on the new tile floor of the two-million-dollar court house.

PROHIBITIONISTS ORGANIZE FORCES

To Advance Movement in Kentucky.

CANDIDATES IN ALL DISTRICTS

For Congress—Strong Ticket Named—Noted Workers Present.

After naming candidates for Congress in the eleven districts of the State, calling for a constitutional amendment prohibiting the manufacture and sale of liquor in the nation, and determining to organize throughout Kentucky, the Prohibition mass meeting adjourned in Louisville Thursday afternoon. The meeting was held at the Pentecostal Hall, 1821 West Walnut street. There were delegates present from all over the State, and several Prohibitionists of note also attended the session. Among these were Dr. Aaron S. Watkins, president of Asbury College, Wilmore, Ky., and the former candidate for the Vice Presidency on the Prohibition ticket; Charles R. Jones, of Chicago, chairman of the National Prohibition committee, and Mrs. Frances E. Beauchamp, president of the Kentucky W. C. T. U.

The principal business of the session was the selection of Dr. Aaron S. Watkins as State President, and the adoption of the plan to have a State organizer or secretary to work under him for the purpose of putting the Prohibition party in real working order in this State. This plan came as the result of a lengthy discussion as to the methods of arousing sentiment and organizing the party for a fight to put Kentucky in the dry column. Several plans were suggested, but on the advice of Chairman Jones it was finally decided to elect Dr. Watkins as the State President and to give him a good man to go about the State and create working organizations in every one of the 119 counties. Just who this man will be is not known, but it will probably be some Prohibition worker of national note who will be furnished by the National Committee.

The other matter of importance acted upon by the convention was the determination to put a full State ticket in the field at the next election and the selection of candidates for Congress in all of the congressional districts. The committee on congressional nominations, composed of C. A. Singer, H. W. Davis and the Rev. J. T. Betts, announced the following nominations just before the close of the afternoon session: First district, Rev. J. Henry Ballard, of Paducah. Second district, Louis Hancock, of Providence. Third district, Prof. W. L. Cassey, of Bowling Green. Fourth district, Rev. R. H. Roe, of Bardstown. Fifth district, Dr. J. B. Stroud, of Louisville. Sixth district, Prof. William Volres, of Milltown. Seventh district, Rev. C. J. Nugent, of New Castle. Eighth district, Aaron S. Watkins, of Wilmore. Ninth district, Rev. Arthur T. O'Rear, of Cynthiana. Tenth district, W. G. Patrick, of Kimbrell. Eleventh district, J. C. McKee, of London.

Kills Himself on Way to Jail.

Augusta, Ky., May 7.—William Teel, a farmer, who was arrested on the charge of attempted criminal assault upon a young white girl, committed suicide by shooting himself while being taken in a buggy by Marshal Sears to Brookville, Ky., for safe keeping. Marshal Sears, hearing that threats had been made to lynch Teel, secured a buggy and started with his prisoner for the Brookville jail. On the way Teel drew a revolver from his bootleg and shot himself through the heart. Whether he had the revolver on his person when searched, or secured it later, is not known.

Mary Wanted a Corset.

Petersburg, Ind., May 7.—Lightning struck the hand-made and secretly-worn corset of nine-year-old Mary Tay to-day and almost ended her life. The little girl, a daughter of a farmer living near this city, wanted to wear a corset.

So she gathered some tin cans, slipped into the hayloft of the barn, and, with a hatchet, cut and shaped her "stays." With a piece of muslin she then made what was at least an imitation of a corset.

To-day she crawled under the porch of the house during a storm. Lightning struck the porch and Mary's screams of pain brought her mother. Dragged from under the porch and undressed, Mary's corset was revealed. One of the "stays" had been melted by the lightning.

Artistic Work.

Mr. J. C. Fehl, who recently came from Louisville to take a position with the Thomas Monumental Works here, is executing some very artistic work in the monument line. A large monument of rustic design was turned out last week and he is now at work on one of the same species, representing a tall stump, with tablets on either side containing appropriate inscriptions. Several elegant smaller jobs have also been completed. Mr. Fehl is an expert in the finer designs of monumental work, and the execution of his chisel evinces great skill.

REQUIEM TOLLS OVER THE RUINS

Of Old Cartago For 1,800 Stricken People.

RESULT OF THE EARTHQUAKE

Wednesday—Awful Scenes Where Families Died Without Warning.

San Jose, Costa Rica, May 7.—Chimes of the historic Church Del Carmen, the belfry of which withstood the earthquake shock of Wednesday evening, tolled a requiem at sunset to-night for Cartago's dead.

While the bells pealed out the tidings of sorrow 5,000 homeless men, women and children, their uncovered heads bowed with grief, stood in silent prayer upon the hilltops overlooking the ruins of the ancient city.

Hour by hour the magnitude of the disaster grows. Eighteen hundred are dead. Almost as many are wounded, many of whom will die. Ten thousand are homeless. Hundreds are starving. Scores have been driven insane.

For the brave survivors, who for three days have witnessed almost unspeakable horrors, perils, of famine and pestilence, remain to be faced. Pioneers of Costa Rica are facing them with undaunted hearts.

Huddled in camps of refuge, bivouacked under the shadow of the volcano Peaz, the city's wealth and poor alike arose to-day from a third night of terror, ready to plan for the task of reconstructing a new and grander city over the smoking remnant of what was Cartago—a waste of ashes and tumbled masonry.

Hundreds of the victims were laid to rest to-day. Long trenches were dug and whole families buried together. Many of the dead were unidentified. From the ruins scores of bodies are being removed hourly.

Men of wealth throughout the little republic have opened their purses to their unfortunate fellow-countrymen and are doing everything possible to relieve the intense suffering which exists among the homeless, the wounded and dying.

As wreckage is cleared away rescuers find that in many instances whole families perished while dining or engaged in their ordinary vocations. Ruins of homes when explored reveal parents clasping in lifeless arms the bodies of their little ones.

Almost the entire republic is in a state of hysteria because of the continual earth tremors. San Jose has been rocking like a cradle since the middle of last month and there is a constant fear among the residents that the city will tumble to earth with the next severe seismic disturbance. Some attribute the earth shocks to the appearance of Halley's Comet.
